I THOUGHT, THIS IS AMAZING

We'll never find anything like this again

When Emma and Matthew moved to Norfolk, they rented a house to see if they could make their new life there. Two years later they're still there and want to stay for good. What keeps them in Norfolk? It's their house, Holly Grove, which they finally decided to buy, renovate and decorate using their own skills and imagination.

Holly Grove was previously a farmhouse. Like many houses in East Anglia, it is a combination of different architectural styles. One side comes from the time of King George V, Queen Victoria's grandson, the middle part is Victorian, and the other side is just a series of unattractive rooms from the 1950s.

Emma and Matthew were looking for a quick way of improving on this strange mixture of styles. They decided on colour. For example, the dining room in the Georgian part of the house had great French windows at either end, which made it very cold. Now it is much more optimistic and warm because it was painted yellow. Emma believes that yellow is always good – the brighter and deeper, the better!

Another big colour idea was the redecoration of the drawing room. There was ugly wallpaper on its walls. One day Emma and Matthew decided that they had had enough, and covered all the walls with cheap red material. For nearly no money and in almost no time, they created a wonderful effect. The room changed into a great place to display their old furniture and paintings.

As well as colour, Emma and Matthew also use a lot of unusual things and pictures to put on the walls of their house. In the bathroom there are large charts showing different kinds of birds and flowers. The kitchen is decorated with toys and the children's paintings. In the bedroom Emma used a lot of printed material and paper. For example, the little toilet is covered in wrapping paper which makes it look like a bright little gift box.

Emma and Matthew's decorating ideas also helped to improve their daughters' room. The walls are covered with old pictures Emma had when she was a child. A family friend painted the ceiling full of poppies, anemones and roses – and now Elizabeth and Kitty wake up to a sea of flowers!

THE JOY OF PICNICS

Years ago, (0) C...back in the days when I was just a kid, my family used to have Sunday picnics together in a (1) nearby part of a countryside. We would find a suitably quiet and pleasant (2) spot then spend several hours chatting, eating and playing games in the (3) open air. Since then, though, my parents' life has become so much busier and they never seem to have the time for (4) outdoor family meals any more.

In my (5) view this is a great pity, so I've recently started to organize picnics of my (6) self. I get in touch with some of my closest friends and first we (7) decided on a suitable place to go. Then we talk about who'll bring which food. This (8) insures that there will be a variety of tasty things to eat, particularly (9) if everyone makes the meals they do best. It's important, though, to keep the food simple, as everything has to (10) fit into a backpack and then we carried across fields and up river valleys.

When we finally (11) reached our destination, it's time to sit down, relax and enjoy each other's company. And I'm (12) absolutely certain that food tastes far better on a picnic than anywhere else.
